The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

BY DREW PEARSON

(Note—In Drew Pearson's absence, Herbert Bayard Swope, long a student of British political affairs, contributes a guest column on the new labor government.)

By HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE
Former Editor of the New York World and Public Relations Adviser to the Secretary of War.

NEW YORK.—The conservative defeat in England is not so striking a blow as some portray it. Unquestionably, there will be a trend toward socialization, but I think that this will be confined, at least for the next few years, to the natural monoplies—power, light, heat, transportation, communication (already in the state's hands except for cables) and, of course, mining, steel, and the Bank of England. But much of this has been on their program for the last 25 years.

In fact, even the Lloyd George government gave support to the basic plan.

There will be a trend on the part of the radical movement in this country to affiliate itself with the British program. And I think there will be efforts to gain a wider and deeper association politically with Britain and Russia. But I do not discern any trend toward communism.

Whatever Britain does will be done not by dictatorship, but under the rule of a true democracy. That characteristic saves it from becoming a repetition of Stalinism. After all, only two Communists were elected out of 27 who ran. That's not dangerous, even though the propagandists can—and do—claim 100 per cent increase! (The Commies had one member in the last House.)

No New Foreign Policy.

I should doubt that there will be any decisive changes in foreign policy. Britain has consistently adhered to a pretty well formulated foreign policy for almost 300 years. However, it is reasonable to expect a greater sympathy on the part of the British foreign office for the movement left of center than with the kings and Tories the expiring government supported. An approach to self-government in India is to be expected.

I think foreign trade will become more international minded and more collective. I think it will move toward further cartelization. The question about British commerce growing will be dependent upon their range of wage. Labor will drive for wider employment and higher pay. Probably it will take over many features of Beveridge's plan. To hold the British position in world markets will require subsidies. In other words, Britain will embark upon a species of protection.

Long Labor Rule.

Attlee is a good man, overshadowed by his association with Churchill. My guess is that labor is in for a long run and, if there is any change it will be to displace Attlee for one of its own, such as Bevin or Morrison. As its name implies, this is a labor victory, built in a democratic framework.

Unquestionably, the fact that labor received a clear majority of all the votes, will tend to unify the country. I believe there is nothing to fear from England. In fact, we may be able to learn from this great experiment. My hope is that there will not be too great a limitation set upon free enterprise.

We should remember that Ramsay MacDonald's labor government swung steadily to the right. In fact, it is axiomatic that the ins grow conservative and the outs more radical.

That is happening in America right now. It wouldn't be surprising if the Republicans were gradually to move to the left, as against the conservatism of the southern democracy.

Universal War-Weariness.

In my reading, it is almost a settled law of history that every country engaged in a war repudiates the leadership that brought its people into the war. We saw that exemplified after World War I. All the victors were repudiated—Wilson in America, Lloyd George in Britain, Orlando in Italy, Clemenceau in France. And the losers, too: the Hohenzollerens, the Hapsburgs and the Romanoffs.

Apparently a great wave of war-weariness overwhelms all peoples, and they throw out anyone remotely connected with the war. If that be true, it disposes of any question of military candidates. But there is small likelihood of that; America has chosen a great military figure really only once. That was Grant—and his presidency was a stench.

Attlee's cabinet is a strong one and certainly as good as Churchill had.

There is an additional point, in connection with the English result, on which I should like to expatiate for just a moment:

We Won't Copy England.

There is an insistent belief that the English elections are definitely an indication of how ours are going. While, unquestionably, the result shows a tendency, in reality there is nothing to warrant the belief that it is any more than such a tendency.

In 1908 to 1911, Lloyd George was beginning his successful campaign for vast social reforms in Britain. We remained conservative, electing Taft in 1908, and would have elected a Republican in 1912 had it not been for the Bull Moose split.

England went liberal during the war, and thereafter, but we turned solidly to the right immediately after the war, while England, in the early '20s elected a labor government. In 1923, when MacDonald got a plurality, we put our leadership in the hands of Calvin Coolidge.

War Chest Drive Will Open October 1st

Solicitation for the Campbell Community and War Chest Drive will begin in the Campbell district Oct. 1, with the quota set at $6750.00. Herbert M. Shadle, War Chest Chairman, asks that residents of this district pay to solicitors from this district only. He suggests that people working in other parts of the county hold back some of their donations for the home district.

Residents considered being in the Campbell Chest district are those living south of Stevens Creek road, between Saratoga avenue and San Jose-Los Gatos road; east of Campbell Creek between Doyle road and Cox avenue extending south to Wedgewood avenue which skirts La Riconada Golf course on the north and west of Dry Creek, Kirk avenue and Branham Lane. Those people living in Bradley Manor Tract and Beverly Tract south of Scott avenue are also in the Campbell district.

Mrs. H. F. Cousins will be in the Campbell Water Company office to receive any gifts missed by the solicitors and there will be a large map there defining the district.

"This will be the last War Chest solicitation as the funds will have to be stretched through 1946. Our own boys will receive 61 percent of the total funds. The need is greater this year than ever before, both for our own men and the area devastated by the war. Give as much or more than you gave last year; only 1c out of each dollar is used for expenses," said Shadle.

Kiwanis Hear Capt. Cramer

Tuesday night saw the last Kiwanis Ladies' Night of the season. Following the dinner, announcement was made of the stag barbecue to be held next Tuesday evening at the home of Ray Bishop in Saratoga. Members are to meet at the library hall at 6:15 and pool their cars.

Attendance pins were presented by Jack Murdock to E. E. Lanphear for 2 years' perfect attendance, "Duke" Morgan for 12 years' and Dr. W. I. Merrill for 16 years'. After group singing, Rev. Robert Carlson of the Congregational church played 3 trumpet solos.

The speaker of the evening, Captain Harold Cramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Cramer, told of his experiences as a battalion surgeon in the European theatre. He spoke of the new drugs developed during the war and lauded the company aid men. Captain Cramer who wears the purple heart advocates the continued education of civilians in first aid.

James M. Nicholls, son of Mr. O. J. Nicholls, Campbell, husband of Lillian Nicholls, Morgan Hill, has been promoted to Corporal, it has been announced by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India China Division, ATC. Cpl. Nicholls has served in the ICD 13 months, and has been in the army since March, 1943.

Commendations from high-ranking army officers have marked the transition of the India China Division to its post-war task of homeward movement, from its war-time task of supplying China when every access to that nation except by air was closed.

Corporal Benjamin Stein has arrived from Casa Blanca on furlough and is with his wife, the former Lois Casterson, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Casterson, 389 Hamilton avenue. On his return, the corporal made the acquaintance of his 16 months old son, Benjamin Jr. for the first time. He will report on Sept. 28 at Hamilton Field for reassignment.

Fruit Workers Strike

Peaceful picketing marked the first large strike ever to effect Campbell when the dried fruit workers, afiliated with the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union, CIO, stopped their work last Thursday, demanding a 15-cent hourly wage increase.

G. H. Schrader, Superintendent of the California Prune and Apricot Growers, said that about twenty thousand boxes have been borrowed from the Drew Canning Company. If the strike continues fifteen or twenty thousand more will be needed to furnish space for the growers' fresh fruit.

Santa Clara County's prune crop, estimated at about 106,000 tons, is the biggest in many years and has the distinction of being picked in the shortest time in several seasons. The price for dried prunes is expected to drop since the market will be of short duration and the crop will be dumped into marketing channels.

Youth Center Ends Season With Dance.

A dance at the Woman's Club on Saturday night will end the season for the Youth Center. Refreshments will be served and Larry Singleton and his ensemble will furnish the music. Serving on the committee for the affair are Larry Lewis, Donna Leigh, "Red" Livingston, Ray Flagg and Mack Martin.

The activities for this group have included dances, pool and ping pong in the "Roost club rooms" which were in the Agriculture building of the Campbell High school until the first of Sept. when they were moved to the Scout hall on Third street for the remainder of the season.

Outside interests consisted of weekly skating, swim parties, basketball games,, yacht trips, a hayride and a "mystic night." The youth group has 110 paid members in good standing.

Director "Jimmy" Glynn and the Roost are grateful to all the Campbell people who helped this group and especially to Herbert Shadle, Charles Jones, Nelson Brothers Grain Company, Leslie Titus, the Campbell Press, James Dent, William C. Henley, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Livingston, Mrs. Ruth Johnson and Mrs. Mae Grieves.

The Playground staff, also part of the Youth Center, with Mrs. Joan Schenk as supervisor and Mrs. J. D. Murray and Mrs. Edith Van Rossem, assistant supervisors, has operated the playground in the lower end of the football field and used the old observation hut as a clubroom. An average of 45 children a day has played there during the summer and, under the direction of Porter Kimbal, have made a weekly trip to the Los Gatos swimming pool and attended a special movie at the Campbell theatre every Wednesday afternoon.

The Campbell Roost defeated the Santa Clara Wutsits in a basketball game with a score of 19 to 8 Tuesday night in the Santa Clara University gym but, in the second game of the double-header, lost to the Wutsits by a score of 22 to 18. The Roost will tangle with the Ferrero Brothers at the same place tonight at 7:15.

Country Woman's Club Plan Luncheon To Open Season

The Country Woman's Club will open its club season with a luncheon at 1 p.m. Monday, Sept. 24 in the club hall. Reservations should be made with Mrs. George Jeffers not later than Sept. 21. Miss Ruby Anderson and the Rev. Robert Carlson will present a musical program and Dr. Dorothy Kaucher will be the guest speaker. Dr. Kaucher, a member of the San Jose State College faculty is one of the few women who have made a round-the-world flight by aeroplane.

Members of the executive board who made arrangements for the luncheon are Mesdames Carl Field, O. S. Price, I. H. Grim, C. E. Hancock, Sue Boyce, E. R. Kennedy, G. E. Jeffers, T. A. Cutting and Anthony Jurras.

Since December 17, 1942 the Country Woman's Club with the assistance of other Campbell community groups, has taken over a day a month at the USO Hut in the San Jose City Plaza. Attendance figures show that it has become a larger task than ever, despite the cessation of the war.

The second Thursday in every month is the day assigned the Club and on Thursday, Sept. 13, those who served were Mesdames G. E. Farley, W. R. Morgan, Hans Hansen, Rudy Nelson, F. A. Coombs, S. N. Hedegard, G. E. Jeffers, Arthur Wellington and Ralph Hyde.

Responsible for 68 dozen sandwiches made in the community room of the library were Mesdames F. H. Cousins, D. H. Cramer, E. J. Bohnett, D. D. Presler, Paul Becker, H. M. Shadle, David Sanders and J. H. Parr. A friend of Mrs. Cramer's, Miss Anna Burke of San Diego, also assisted the group.

During the summer, two of the groups assisting the Country Woman's club were the Campbell and Almaden Grange and the Legion Auxiliary and Service Club. The Catholic Women's Guild has contributed financially to the project also.

Adult Education Classes Start

Principal James Dent of the Campbell high school announces that the sewing class, under the direction of the High School Adult Education, will begin on Thursday, September 27, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. The instructor for this course is Mrs. Agnes Roberts.

The following classes are being considered for the curriculum: wood shop, folk dancing, physical education, commercial subjects, current social problems and Americanization. All those interested in any of these courses should express their interest by calling the high school office.

Captain and Mrs. Arnold Grim are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Sept. 13 at Gulf Port, Army Air Field, Mississippi, where Captain Grim is stationed. The baby, who was born on her mother's birthday, has been named Antoinette but will be called "Toni". Mrs. Grim was the former Lieutenant Rheba Windham of Georgia.

The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ira H. Grim, 11 S. Third street, Campbell.

Robert Swift, M. M. 2/c U. S. N. of Route 1, Box 75, Dry Creek Road, is home on leave and expects a discharge from the service within the next month. He has been in the Navy for thre years and saw action in the Pacific theater. His wife, the former Marilyn Knopf, has been living here with her family.

Mr. F. H. Cutting, accompanied by his grandson, Charles Cutting, is away on a ten days' camping trip near Morro Bay. While there, Mr. Cutting will do some landscape painting.

Mrs. Dorina Pottoroff, wife of Pfc. Cecil Pottoroff, who died in San Jose last Saturday, leaves an uncle here, Bernardo Benzo, Santa Clara-Los Gatos road. Funeral services were held last Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. from the "Chapel of Flowers" and entombment followed at the Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

New arrivals in Campbell are Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Menard of East St. Louis, Illinois, who have bought a house at 76 S. Everett. Mr. Menard is a carpenter and cabinet maker by trade and a son, Cecil, is a Seaman 1/c in the Navy, at present on the USS Henderson.

Campbell Man Back From Jap Prison Camp

Robert P. Cassell, Route 1, Box 174, has to pinch himself to believe that he is really back home in Campbell. After 3½ years of Jap brutality in prison camps on Corregidor and in Japan and four narrow escapes from death, the young torpedoman 1/c feels it is a miracle to be alive.

Rescued on September 5 from the Japs, he arrived September 10 in San Francisco via air transport to step once again into a world of food, electricity, clothes, and above all, safety. One of the biggest thrills for Cassell was the sight of Ronald Robert, his four year old son whom he had never seen.

Cassell, who has been in the Navy for 10½ years, was taken captive while on duty at the ammunition depot on Corregidor. After a year in prison camps there he was removed to Japan where he was forced to work in the copper mines. They worked 2000 feet under the earth, often at a temperature of 10 degrees below zero with practically no clothing.

The prisoners' food often consisted of rats, dogs, snails and the roots of seaweed, and Cassell reports that he was systematically and regularly beaten. He suffered an eye injury due to repeated facial beatings. Despite this treatment and the loss of 85 pounds, Navy doctors find him in good condition. Under their treatment he is gaining weight at the rate of 2 pounds a day and has already reached 160.

Through all of his ordeals the young Campbell sailor managed to keep a picture of his wife and baby hidden in the cuff of his shirt. That, with his dog tag and his prison number, were his total possessions at the time of his release.

His wife, the former Josephine Sherlock, has been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Sherlock, during her husband's imprisonment. Mr. and Mrs. Sherlock have a son who served in the anti-aircraft division of the Army in New Guinea and Australia. He has recently received his discharge and is living at home with his family. An older son of Mrs. Sherlock, Albert Martin, was reported missing in action in Germany last November.

Cassell will remain at the home of his wife's family for the balance of his ninety days' leave.

David Saavedra Writes Of Experiences

Seaman 1/c David A. Saavedra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan J. Saavedra, writes his parents some of the history of his ship, the USS California, now that Navy restrictions have been released. The ship was among those badly damaged at Pearl Harbor but was repaired at Bremerton and Long Beach and then, manned by more than 2200 officers and men from every state in the Union, she sortied forth again from Pearl Harbor to partake in enemy action at Saipan, Guam and Tinian. She was damaged again at Saipan but ready to take part in the offensive agains the Philippines.

The California, known affectionately as the "Prune Barge", did more than her part in the "forty days of Leyte Gulf" and the night battle of Surigeo. In her next encounter with the enemy at Lingayen Gulf" a Jap suicide plane crashed into the mainmast structure killing 209 men and injuring 155. After being repaired once more at Bremerton, the California was in time to help with the Okinawa invasion.

The young seaman's father, Juan J. Saavedra, is a foreman at the dehydrator here.

EDITORIAL

For the next several weeks the "Press" will bring to its readers a series of guest editorials written by men and women of Campbell who are responsive to the problems of the post war world and particularly to their effect on our own locality.

Today's editorial is written by the superintendent of the Campbell Elementary school who, although a native of Arizona, has spent most of his life in and about the Bay Area. He attended San Jose State College and took graduate work at both the University of California and Stanford. He begins his second year here with the full confidence of the community.

Next week's guest editorial will be written by the Rev. L. J. Osborne, minister of the Methodist Church.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The community of Campbell is proud of its schools and justly so; they are outstanding. They are part of one of the greatest institutions of the world, the American Public Schools. This country has long been called the "Melting Pot" of the world and no factor has been greater than the American Public School. It is in the public school that all children of the various races, nationalities, and creeds play together, work together, and learn to get along together with a minimum of prejudice and friction.

Your schools, with you as individuals and with many other organizations, have played their small part in victoriously bringing to a close World War II; but, the job has just begun. We must all learn to get along together respecting other opinions, maintain world peace and stablize the individual econ omy of all people.

No one is in a better position to contact as great a percentage of our present and future citizenry than the American Public Schools. A big job lies ahead.

Your schools, like all others, can only go as far as the cooperation of the homes and community extends. I'm sure that the Campbell Schools will progress; I know that Campbell will continue to extend its cooperation to its schools.

I am pleased to be a small part of the American School System and particularly a part of the Campbell Union Grammar School. It pleases me very much to have had this opportunity to place a "Guest Editorial" before you in this paper.
